Second Hartford Materials Camp draws 24 students

On April 13, 2009, the Hartford Chapter hosted its second Hartford Area Materials Camp. The camp was designed to allow high school students to explore the field of material science and engineering and encourage them to learn more about materials. With this goal in mind the camp created seven themed stations. Teamed with local industry professionals and UConn's Materials Advantage Chapter, ASM Hartford welcomed 24 students and six teachers from AMBYESE Yes I Can! and Hartford Public High School's Academy of Engineering and Green Technology.
